2010-2011 Verification Form

Your application was selected for review in a process called "Verification". In this process, a comparison of the information you submitted on your FAFSA application along with the information provided on this form and signed copies of your 2009 federal tax forms (and your spouse's if you are married, or parents' if you are considered dependent for federal aid purposes) will be reviewed. By law, we have the right to ask for this information before awarding federal aid. If there are differences between your application and the documents you've submitted, corrections may need to be submitted to the Federal processor. Failure to complete and return the verification form and requested documents will delay your financial aid.

What you should do:

1. Collect your (and your spouse's or parents') financial documents (signed Federal income tax forms, W-2, etc.).
2. Complete both sides of this form. Do not leave any question unanswered. You (and your parent, if appropriate) must sign the form.
3. Photocopy the documents requested and bring or mail along with the completed verification worksheet to the Financial Aid Office.
